

Oxford

International Encyclopedia of Communications

4 Volumes

ERIK BARNOUW

Editor-in-Chief

GEORGE GERBNER

Chair, Editorial Board

WILBUR SCHRAMM

Consulting Editor

"This four-volume encyclopedia... is the first of its kind in the field, and it is a treasure.... To all libraries and communications departments: Buy this now."—Library Journal

"A significant scholarly achievement. Its broad and authoritative coverage of the multifaceted aspects of communication provides a synthesis of ideas and concepts that span many disciplines. While a number of the topics treated are also covered by other subject encyclopedias and even by general encyclopedias, IEC offers a unique perspective by viewing events, places, organizations, social processes, and other factors in relation to their contribution to or influence on the evolution of communication."—Booklist: Reference Books Bulletin

"A beauty... printed in two colors, generously illustrated, arranged both alphabetically and topically consistent in style, never loose, never digressive, never argumentative.... Sound enough to satisfy discriminating scholars, it also invites mining for nuggets... so many essays are downright fascinating that one is tempted to read the volumes incrementally, from all four covers to all four covers."—Los Angeles Times

The International Encyclopedia of Communications, published jointly with the Annenberg School of Communications at the University of Pennsylvania, is a comprehensive, authoritative, and up-to-date reference covering all aspects of communications—individual and institutional, cultural and technological, practical and theoretical—in every part of the world. Broad in scope and interdisciplinary in its coverage, the Encyclopedia contains more than 550 original articles written by an international group of distinguished contributors. Entries are arranged alphabetically for easy access, and there are abundant cross-references as well as an extensive Analytic Index. Topics covered range from simple gestures, speech, language, and alphabet to fire signals, space satellites, clay tablets, and microchips, and each article is followed by a bibliography.

1989 1960 pp.; 400 linecuts, 650 halftones, 35 maps, 30 tables
$350.00 for the 4 volume set

Price is subject to change and applies only in the U.S.

To order, send check or money order to:

Humanities and Social Sciences Marketing Department

To order by phone or request a full brochure, please call (212) 679-7300, ext. 7106

Oxford University Press

200 Madison Avenue • New York, NY 10016